

TEN OUTSTANDING FREE WEBSITES FOR STUDENTS

All of these websites allow students to create content online, makes it easy to share and showcase, and can be used with any subject matter. Each site takes a little time to learn, so it's important you first dive in and create something yourself and then have your students create something themselves.

1. Quizlet (www.quizlet.com)
Build individual or group Flash cards for review and studying.
2. Prezi (www.prezi.com)
An excellent alternative to PowerPoint where content is spread across a large board.
3. Google Sites (sites.google.com)
A free website creator, simple and easy to use.
4. XTRANormal (www.xtranormal.com)
Create movies online through typing text and scripts.
5. Voicethread (www.voicethread.com)
Create a thread of pictures with voice.
6. Blogger (www.blogger.com)
Create a blog on any topic.
7. Timerime (www.timerime.com)
Create a timeline online.
8. Wikispaces (www.wikispaces.com)
Create an online repository of information or wiki about a topic
9. Animoto (www.animoto.com)
Create a slide show of photos with music and audio.
10. Audioboo (www.audioboo.com)
Create and share audio creations for poetry, scripts, or news casts.

Plan to use one of the above tools with one of your classes:

Class: _____ Period: _____

Online Tool: _____

Content / Unit: _____

Task: Students will create: _____

For what purpose: _____

Demonstrating: _____

Additional Description: _____
